AKnowledge

Intelligent knowledge management for major projects

Is critical project information never there when you need it, where you need it?

Affinitext changes that forever with a powerful online interactive project library. With Affinitext, you can provide facts at their fingertips to project stakeholders anywhere to find and understand critical project information in seconds.

Revolutionize the way you share knowledge on major projects

Affinitext makes it easy to find, understand, and share vital information on major projects to reduce administration costs, improve decision-making and manage risk. Converting critical project documents to the Affinitext Intelligent Document Format™ (IDF™) brings your documents to life in an online interactive project library:

- Find and understand information without the delays and costs of relying on third-party advisers for routine queries
- Capture and retain project knowledge so that critical information does not walk out the door when key project members do
- Add notes, legal opinions, attachments to any clause
- Enjoy facts at your fingertips and answers FAST.

With Affinitext AKnowledge you can do all of this and more.
