AProcurement

Intelligent procurement for major projects

Can you communicate securely with bidders for major project procurement?

Affinixtext saves time and money and improves the quality of bids. Communicate with bid-teams online and avoid printing, delays, and costly misunderstandings because everything is linked to the relevant clause in your project library.

Revolutionize procurement for major projects with Affinixtext

Affinixtext transforms passive tender documents into interactive online resources. Secure procurement communication with bidders anywhere in the world is all linked back to specific clauses in your RFP and tender documents online:

- Communicate securely with bidders anywhere in the world 24/7 through an online interactive project library
- Integrate RFP and other key tender documents with smart-linking to save time and improve quality of bids
- Empower bidders to collaborate globally within bid teams to improve the quality and speed of bid submissions
- Receive questions online linked to specific clauses, direct to the appropriate adviser, approve the response, then publish response to questioning bidder or all bidders
- Manage information flows, meet probity requirements.

With Affinixtext AProcurement you can do all of this and more.
